About AAMP

In 1937, Iowa organized the first state association of locker plant operators and other states soon followed. In 1939, leaders of a number of state locker associations met in Des Moines, Iowa, and they organized the National Frozen Food Locker Association (NFFLA) – Operator Group. Also, in the late 1930’s, an organization made up of builders of locker plants and locker plant equipment became known as the Frozen Food Locker Institute (FFLI) – Supplier Group. In 1948, the NFFLA headquarters moved to Chicago, Illinois.

In 1950, the National Frozen Food Locker Association and the Frozen Food Locker Institute merged to become the National Frozen Food Locker Institute (NFFLI) and shortly thereafter, the NFFLI headquarters moved from Chicago, Illinois, to Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania. In 1955, the NFFLI changed its name to the National Institute of Locker & Freezer Provisioners (NILFP). The name change was more representative of the work performed by the operators.

At the 34th Annual Convention (August 12-15, 1973) the membership unanimously voted to change the official name to the American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) and adopt a new logo.

On November 3, 1989, ground was officially broken in a then-undeveloped region of Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, for the new home of the American Association of Meat Processors. Today, the American Association of Meat Processors is North America’s largest meat trade organization. Membership includes more than 1,300 small to very small meat, poultry and food businesses: slaughterers, packers, processors, wholesalers, in-home food service businesses, retailers, deli and catering operators, and industry suppliers. AAMP members are from the U.S., Canadian provinces and several foreign countries. AAMP is also affiliated with 31 state, regional and provincial trade organizations, which represent about 2,700 meat and poultry businesses.
A Message From Your President ~ 2011-2012
Jon Frohling, Frohling Meats Inc., Hecla, South Dakota

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support of the American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) during my term as president. In addition to being a member in good standing, I hope you will take every opportunity to become actively involved at AAMP’s national convention, meetings, workshops, etc., while building friendships with fellow processors within the Association. Networking with processors all over the U.S. and the ideas gained at the convention are priceless.

As an AAMP member, you have access to a wealth of resources that will benefit you and your business. One excellent resource is the 2012-2013 Gold Book Directory & Meat Buyers’ Guide. Familiarize yourself with the Product Index, in the back of the book, to locate equipment, supplies, and consulting help.

I am proud to be a part of the AAMP team. AAMP has been instrumental in the growth of my business. Therefore, it is my goal to continue helping this Association grow. I encourage you to get involved with AAMP, and we will help your business grow.

Jon Frohling

A Message From Your Next President ~ 2012-2013
Mike Sloan, Hermann Wurst Haus, Hermann, Missouri

I look forward to being the next president of the American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) with a great deal of pride and enthusiasm. Throughout each year, AAMP continues to stand firmly behind you, the member, and to work diligently on your behalf. As in the past, AAMP supports mid-sized, small, and very small meat plant establishments like yours with invaluable resources and legislative support.

Please consider putting your name in the running for an AAMP Board of Directors position. Network with fellow processors. Become a volunteer during AAMP’s national convention. You will learn invaluable lessons and have fun at the same time.

I hope you will take time to look through the pages of your new directory. In addition to active operators, suppliers, allied members, and affiliated associations, AAMP has compiled lists of some of the most accomplished men and women in our industry. You can find contact information for field offices, state officials, and askFSIS, as well as upcoming conventions and member benefits.

Don’t hesitate to give me a call, or the AAMP staff; that’s what we’re here for. Thank you for your continued support of AAMP. It will be a privilege to serve as your president.

Mike Sloan

AAMP Member Benefits & Services

The American Association of Meat Processors provides a wide variety of services for its meat industry members. The following information offers a broad overview of the programs and benefits currently available.

AAMP Website

The American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) introduced its new, reconstructed website in the fall of 2009. Since then, AAMP has added information to the website almost on a daily basis. Currently, the website contains more than 5,000 informational files and averages approximately 10,000 visiting processors, suppliers, wholesalers, meat scientists and consumers per day.

Visit AAMP’s Website and view information on the following:

- HEADLINE & CURRENT NEWS
- REGULATORY & LEGISLATIVE AFFAIRS
- RELATED INDUSTRY NEWS
- FOOD SAFETY
- UPCOMING EVENTS
- WORKSHOPS
- AMERICAN CONVENTION OF MEAT PROCESSORS
- NUTRITION LABELING & ANALYSIS
- PUBLICATIONS

Also on AAMP’s website is the “Members Only Section”. With an assigned User ID, members can access the “Members Only Section” to get updated information such as: HACCP supporting documentation, membership directory, and the bi-weekly news bulletins…the AAMPlifier and the Capitol Line-Up

AAMP members receive two newsletters twice per month. The AAMPlifier contains a wealth of information on industry trends, important national news, Association activities, and operational information to keep members fully informed about events affecting their business.

The Capitol Line-Up deals strictly with governmental affairs in the industry. AAMP publishes the Capitol Line-Up 26 times a year. The newsletter keeps AAMP members up-to-date with the latest news about government affairs from Congress and key agencies in Washington, as well as state legislatures and state regulatory bodies.

Contact AAMP today for your “User ID” information so you can get “cutting edge” information!
Nutrition Labeling Services

Nutrition labeling has become a fact of life. Those producing over 100,000 pounds of any one product (sausage, bologna, jerky, etc.) in a year’s time are required by law to display a nutrition facts panel. Using the Genesis Nutrition Labeling Formulation Database, which meets USDA and FDA criteria, AAMP can compute nutrition facts for meat, poultry, game, seafood, desserts, soup, and many more products at a reasonable price with a quick turn-around time.

As a reference, a nutrition label developed at a lab from direct product analysis would cost between $800-1200 per product. On the other hand, a nutrition label developed with AAMP’s database costs $45 per product formulation (non-members $85 per product).

Once all the required information is gathered, your nutrition label is typically ready within 48 hours. Your complete analysis will include a food list, spreadsheet, camera-ready label, and signed confidentiality agreement. Visit www.aamp.com/Nutrition.asp for more information about AAMP’s Nutrition Labeling services.

The required Labor Law Posters are available on the Members Only side of the AAMP website. Go to http://www.aamp.com/members2/OSHAInformation.asp to download the posters in several formats and Española versions.

If you need your Members Only User ID, call the AAMP office at 717-367-1168 or send an email to aamp@aamp.com.

The OSHA Job Safety and Health: It's the Law Poster

All covered employers are required to display, and keep displayed, a poster prepared by the Department of Labor informing employees of the protections of the Occupational Safety and Health Act P.L. 91-596, December 29, 1970, and its amendments. Employers do not need to replace previous versions of the poster. The OSHA Job Safety and Health: It's the Law poster (OSHA 3165) is available for free from the OSHA Office of Publications.

OFCCP Equal Employment Opportunity Poster

Every employer covered by the non-discrimination and EEO laws is required to post on its premises the Equal Employment Opportunity is the Law poster. The notice must be posted prominently, where it can be readily seen by employees and applicants for employment. The notice provides information concerning the laws and procedures for filing complaints of violations of the laws with the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP).

Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) Minimum Wage Poster

Every employer of employees subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act's minimum wage provisions must post, and keep posted, a notice explaining the Act in a conspicuous place in all of their establishments so as to permit employees to readily read it. The content of the notice is prescribed by the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor. An approved copy of the minimum wage poster is made available for informational purposes or for employers to use as posters.
Employee Rights

Under the Fair Labor Standards Act

The United States Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division

Federal Minimum Wage

Overtime Pay

At least 1½ times your regular rate of pay for all hours worked over 40 in a workweek.

Youth Employment

An employee must be at least 16 years old to work in most non-farm jobs and at least 18 to work in non-farm jobs declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor.

Youths 14 and 15 years old may work outside school hours in various non-manufacturing, non-mining, non-hazardous jobs under the following conditions:

- No more than
  - 3 hours on a school day or 18 hours in a school week;
  - 8 hours on a non-school day or 40 hours in a non-school week.

Also, work may not begin before 7 a.m. or end after 7 p.m., except from June 1 through Labor Day, when evening hours are extended to 9 p.m. Different rules apply in agricultural employment. For more information, visit the YouthRules! Web site at www.youthrules.gov.

Tip Credit

Employers of “tipped employees” must pay a cash wage of at least $2.13 per hour if they claim a tip credit against their minimum wage obligation. If an employee’s tips combined with the employer’s cash wage of at least $2.13 per hour do not equal the minimum hourly wage, the employer must make up the difference. Certain other conditions must also be met.

Enforcement

The Department of Labor may recover back wages either administratively or through court action, for the employees that have been underpaid in violation of the law. Violations may result in civil or criminal action.

Civil money penalties of up to $11,000 per violation may be assessed against employers who violate the youth employment provisions of the law and up to $1,100 per violation against employers who willfully or repeatedly violate the minimum wage or overtime pay provisions. This law prohibits discriminating against or discharging workers who file a complaint or participate in any proceedings under the Act.

Additional Information

- Certain occupations and establishments are exempt from the minimum wage and/or overtime pay provisions.
- Special provisions apply to workers in American Samoa and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.
- Some state laws provide greater employee protections; employers must comply with both.
- The law requires employers to display this poster where employees can readily see it.
- Employees under 20 years of age may be paid $4.25 per hour during their first 90 consecutive calendar days of employment with an employer.
- Certain full-time students, student learners, apprentices, and workers with disabilities may be paid less than the minimum wage under special certificates issued by the Department of Labor.

AAMP has a new membership recruitment program and we need YOUR help to make this initiative successful. AAMP is relying on current members to spread the word about the benefits of AAMP to potential members. Our best advertisement comes from you, the members, not any promotional mailings or “special offers.” This new initiative provides a great incentive to promote the Association and increase membership…all while giving you an opportunity to really CA$H IN!

Here’s How It Works:

- When a current AAMP member (Operator or Supplier) sponsors a new member (Operator or Supplier), they will receive a $50 coupon.
- The coupon will be valid towards AAMP Dues, Convention Registration, Resource Manuals, etc.
- The coupon will have no cash value whatsoever and will be valid for one year from the date it is issued. It will be the member’s responsibility to redeem the coupon.
- There is no limit on the number of coupons that can be issued per member, providing the sponsorships are for new member companies that are valid entities.
- The coupons will be available to the member company, not specific individuals within a company. For example, if Employee A and Employee B work for AAMP Supplier Member X and each sponsor one new member, Supplier Member X receives two coupons for $50 each.
- When sponsoring a new member, be sure your name and your company’s name are included on the application or the credit will not be received.
- The 2011-2012 cycle for this initiative will run until May 31, 2012, in order to coincide with the Golden Cleaver Award deadlines.

The Cleaver Club:

- The Cleaver Club recognizes current members who recruit new members for the Association.
- Operators and Suppliers participating in this membership initiative who sponsor new members will still be part of the AAMP Cleaver Club.
- The coveted Golden Cleaver Award will continue to be presented to the individual who sponsors the most new members between June 1, 2011, and May 31, 2012.

To Top It All Off…

Supplier members who sponsor 10 or more new members will receive a standard 10’ x 10’ booth space at the 2012 AAMP Convention in St. Paul, MN, for ½ price!

Nutrition Labeling of Single-Ingredient Products and Ground or Chopped Meat and Poultry Products

- Beginning March 1, 2012, the new regulation requires nutrition labeling to be provided for the forty major cuts of single-ingredient, raw meat and poultry products.
  - (See page two for the complete list.)
- All meat and poultry product retailers must comply regardless of establishment inspection status.
- Nutritional information can be provided on the product label, or on point of purchase (POP) materials.
  - POP materials can include: posters, brochures, cards, etc., displayed at the retail location.
  - Nutritional information must be provided on the label rather than POP materials for all ground and chopped meat and poultry products, with or without seasoning.
- Required Nutritional Information
  - The nutrition facts panels and POP materials must include the number of calories and the grams of total fat and saturated fat a product contains.
  - Any product that lists a lean percentage statement on its label also will list its fat percentage.
- Does not apply to the following products:
  - major cuts of single-ingredient, raw meat and poultry products and ground or chopped meat and poultry products that are intended for further processing
  - not for sale to consumers
  - custom slaughtered or prepared
  - intended for export
  - individually wrapped, small packages of less than 0.5 ounce net weight.
  - ground or chopped products in packages that have a total surface area for labeling of less than 12 square inches, that includes no nutrition claims or nutrition information, provided that an address or telephone number that a consumer can use to obtain the required information is included on the label.
Small businesses that use statements of percent fat and percent lean on the label of ground products, provided they include no other nutrition claims on the product label, are exempted from providing further nutrition information.

Reference Standards for the Nutrition Labeling of Single-Ingredient Ground Meats Containing Varying Fat Percentages

The American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) is pleased to announce the development of a FREE resource notebook, to members, titled “Reference Standards for the Nutrition Labeling of Single-Ingredient Ground Meats Containing Varying Fat Percentages.”

The final nutrition label rule (FSIS-2005-0018): Nutrition Labeling of Single-Ingredient Products and Ground or Chopped Meat and Poultry Products requires that nutrition labels be provided for all ground or chopped products (livestock species and poultry) and hamburger, with or without added seasonings, unless an exemption applies.

If you produce more than 100,000 pounds of a particular single-ingredient ground product (i.e., raw hamburger, ground beef, ground beef patties, ground chicken, ground turkey, ground chicken patties, ground pork, and ground lamb) annually, FSIS requires that a nutrition label appears on the product.

In order to meet these nutrition labeling requirements, Visual Reference Guides were developed to facilitate meeting a portion of the regulatory obligation. They contain pictures of raw materials at four distinct production stages, along with their corresponding fat contents. These Visual Reference Guides have the possibility of gaining USDA acceptance as an approved method of fat content analysis in ground meat products, along with minimal finished product chemical analysis data. It is important that establishments utilize the Visual Reference Guides coupled with some laboratory data accurately label retail products. AAMP believes that an experienced meat processor could utilize the Reference Standards Visual Guide to determine the lean-to-fat ratio of their ground meat products.

Minimal finished product chemical analysis data will most likely have to be conducted to provide further lean-to-fat ratio verification data. This reference information provides more ongoing visual verification rather than relying solely on random end product lean/fat percentage data.

This project, funded by portion of your membership investment, was conducted at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The resource document includes a detailed report outlining the materials, methods, final percent lean/fat ratio deviation, and results from an internal efficacy test that was conducted to determine if the visual could guide an individual’s assessment on fat/lean content of raw materials. Each species and percent lean/fat ratio of the research project was conducted in triplicate to ensure the accuracy of the information.

The Reference Standards for the Nutrition Labeling of Single-Ingredient Ground Meats Containing Varying Fat Percentages contains information on the following items:
If this FSIS nutrition labeling regulation of single-ingredient ground products doesn’t affect your business, the information within the Reference Standards Visual Guide could help you make a more consistent ground product...whether it is ground beef, fresh pork sausage, or ready-to-eat sausage products. Use it to train your employees on the type of consistent raw materials you want to use in your products.

For larger versions of the images, AAMP members can log in to www.aamp.com/members.php and download larger visual reference cards. You can have them professionally printed by another third-party entity (e.g., Staples, OfficeMax, FedEx Office, etc.). Then have them laminated so that they can withstand the processing operations in your establishment and remain in sanitary condition.

If you have any questions regarding the single-ingredient nutrition labeling requirements or the Reference Standards Visual Guide provided, please contact AAMP at aamp@aamp.com or call (877) 877-0168 to speak with an AAMP representative.

Single-Ingredient Nutrition Label Information

AAMP has posted over 165 nutrition labels on the Members Only section of the AAMP website (www.aamp.com). The pages are broken up into separate pages for beef, pork, lamb, veal, chicken and turkey and easy to navigate through.

Model HACCP Plans

Also posted on the Members Only section of the AAMP website are ten new model HACCP plans. These HACCP plans were developed for meat and poultry processors to utilize as a guide. It is extremely crucial that each establishment develop their own HACCP plans that accurately outline the unique processing activities that take place in their own establishment.

AAMP Regulatory Resources

Model HACCP Plans

You can now view 11 model HACCP plans on the Members Only section AAMP’s website, www.aamp.com. They contain everything you need to know when developing a HACCP plan. Including following information:

- HACCP plan
- Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs)
- Pre-requisite programs (Listeria monocytogenes and E. coli O157:H7)
- Sanitation Standard Operating Procedures (SSOPs)
- Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and Logs
- Supporting Documentation

Just as processors have learned a lot about HACCP over the ten-plus years of this regulation, AAMP has learned just as much. Within each HACCP plan, common critical control points (CCPs) were determined with common critical limits (CLs). These two essential points are backed up by supporting documentation that is only a click away AAMP’s website. You can determine your own CCPs and CLs to best suit your individualized processing needs. The documents are all in PDF formats. AAMP has also provided template documents in Microsoft Word to assist you in the development of your own HACCP plans. AAMP members now have the critical pieces at their disposal to develop HACCP plans. AAMP has developed a couple HACCP plans strictly with the retail establishment member in mind. There is a HACCP plan for “curing food” and one for “packaging food using a reduced oxygen packaging” method (i.e., vacuum packaging) available on the website.

Please note...The HACCP plans contained within the AAMP website were developed for meat and poultry processors to utilize as a guide. It is extremely crucial that each establishment develop their own HACCP plans that accurately outline the unique processing activities that take place in their own establishment.

HACCP Reassessment

HACCP programs do not operate automatically. In order to succeed, HACCP programs need appropriate support and management. It is important to conduct a rigorous evaluation of your food safety system to assure that the HACCP plan is appropriately controlling the safety of the product produced. Regularly scheduled evaluations, such as the annual reassessment, are invaluable in assessing the HACCP system. In addition to evaluating long-term trends, these evaluations also are used to determine if any changes need to be made in the HACCP system, standard operating procedures (SOPs), documentation forms, or practices. The regulations are vague regarding the documentation of annual reassessment. Basically, a processor has to date and sign the HACCP programs to demonstrate when the establishment meets the reassessment requirement. Currently, there is no recordkeeping requirement in § 417.5 that prescribes a record for the reassessment; so normally, the inspection program personnel (IPP) are required to ask establishments certain questions to make a compliance determination.

The Federal Register Notice (FDMS Docket Number FSIS–2008–0025), reveals that within the 2008 Farm Bill, portions of the Federal Meat Inspection Act (FMIA) and the Poultry Products Inspection Act (PPIA) were amended. FSIS is proposing regulations to implement these new statutory provisions.

This proposed action will amend 9 CFR 417.4 (a)(3), requiring establishments to document in writing each reassessment of their HACCP plans or the reasons for not making changes to the HACCP plan, based on the reassessment. This will allow establishment supervisory and audit personnel, as well as FSIS personnel, to verify that establishments are, in fact, reassessing those plans at least annually, as required by § 417.4(a)(3), and that they are appropriately assessing their findings when they do (although FSIS is proposing not to require an explanation, if no change is made to the HACCP plan on the basis of the annual reassessment). Requiring these written reassessments to be made available to inspection program personnel ensures that the records are prepared and available.
Although the proposed regulation has not yet gone into effect, AAMP thought it best to be proactive on this issue, since it will be coming soon. To assist the AAMP membership, AAMP has created template reassessment documents for processors to use. These template reassessment documents can be found on the Members Only section of AAMP’s website, www.aamp.com, under the model HACCP plan section, and should be modified to fit your unique needs.

HACCP Plan Reassessment Form 1
- What HACCP plans were reassessed?
- Who performed the reassessment?
- When the reassessment was performed

HACCP Plan Reassessment Form 2
- A brief description of why a change/addition/deletion was made

HACCP Plan Reassessment Form 3
- A specific guide to track which parts of the HACCP plan were changed throughout the reassessment

Humane Handling Guidance

AAMP has always encouraged members that slaughter livestock to consider developing a humane handling program for their establishment. AAMP also believes in the importance of the Humane Methods of Livestock Slaughter Act (HMSA) and has developed Humane Handling and Slaughter of Livestock Guidance for the membership to use as a resource when developing a plan unique to their individual operations.

There is no regulatory requirement for a systematic approach to humane handling and slaughter. However, if an establishment develops and maintains a robust systematic approach to humane handling and slaughter, U.S. Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) would take that into consideration in the event of an egregious inhumane incident. A plan like this can help an establishment avoid large amounts of paperwork, a negative image, and loss time on the slaughter line.

If an establishment requests that Inspection Program Personnel (IPP) consider the establishment’s systematic approach to humane handling and slaughter to be robust, IPP will consider criteria, such as the points that are identified below, when reviewing the written humane handling program and associated records in determining whether it is robust. For FSIS to consider a systematic approach to be robust, the program must first be available to inspection program personnel for review. The Agency has the expectation that the systematic approach include a written animal handling program that effectively addresses, through its design, maintenance, and execution, the four aspects of a systematic approach and that also:

- Describes procedures that the establishment will effectively implement to stay in compliance with the humane handling regulations,
- Describes records that the establishment will keep to demonstrate that the program is being implemented as written,
- Describes records that the establishment will keep to demonstrate the program will effectively prevent identified potential non-compliances (NRs), and
- Describes actions the establishment will take when it fails to implement the program as written or fails to prevent a noncompliance.

To develop and maintain a systematic approach to meet the humane handling requirements, FSIS has stated that establishments should:

1. Conduct an initial assessment of where and under what circumstances livestock may experience excitement, discomfort, or accidental injury while being handled in connection with slaughter and, except for establishments conducting ritual slaughter, where and under what circumstances stunning problems may occur.
2. Design facilities and implement practices that will minimize excitement, discomfort, and accidental injury to livestock.
3. Evaluate handling methods periodically to ensure they minimize excitement, discomfort, and accidental injury and, except for establishments conducting ritual slaughter, evaluate stunning methods periodically to ensure that all livestock is rendered insensible to pain by a single blow.

4. Improve handling practices and modify facilities when necessary to minimize excitement, discomfort, and accidental injury to livestock.

The Humane Handling and Slaughter of Livestock Guidance that AAMP has developed specifically takes into consideration what we believe the typical AAMP member should evaluate throughout the humane slaughtering process. These points include:

- Transportation and Receiving Livestock
- Holding Pens
- Moving Livestock
- Stunning
- Employee Training
- Program Monitoring
- Emergency/Natural Disaster Situations

The AAMP website offers tips that can help you better prepare for and better understand the issues, as well as develop step-by-step guidance. AAMP has also developed a Humane Handling Response Guide in the event that an establishment’s slaughter is suspended resulting from an egregious humane handling violation. Remember, when developing a humane handling program, the program should be unique to the individual operations. All of this Humane Handling and Slaughter of Livestock Guidance has been incorporated into each of the model HACCP plans for slaughter beef, pork, and lamb. It is located within the Publication section of the AAMP Members Only section of the AAMP website. If you have trouble locating the information, please contact the AAMP staff for assistance.

Allergen Pre-requisite Program

In response to FSIS Notice 54-11 (Verification Activities for the Use and Labeling of Ingredients of Public Health Concern) and the continued publication of avoidable recalls, AAMP has developed an Allergen Pre-requisite Program to assist the AAMP membership on how to address allergens within a meat processing establishment. The Allergen Pre-requisite Program describes how establishments can increase measures to verify that allergens utilized in the production of meat and poultry products are controlled and that products are accurately labeled. Documentation logs are also provided so establishments can have a written record that these verification activities actually were conducted and could be reviewed by inspection personnel.

AAMP developed this systematic Pre-requisite Program in an effort to address allergens throughout the entire production process. The Allergen Pre-requisite Program is divided into the following sections:

- Cleaning/Sanitation
- Receiving and Handling Ingredients Containing Allergens
- Supplier Control Programs for Ingredients Containing Allergens
- Ingredient Cross Reference
- Storage of Ingredients Containing Allergens
- Formulating Products
- Scheduling Processing
- Product Manufacturing
- Rework Control
- Packaging/Labeling
- Employee Training & Education

This Allergen Pre-requisite Program can be found on AAMP’s website (www.aamp.com) within the Members Only section. This Pre-requisite Program has been incorporated into each of the appropriate model HACCP plans. Establishments should modify the Allergen Pre-requisite Program to meet their own unique processing parameters and needs.
